COTTON BUYERS NOT DETERRED

RAILROAD COMMISSION CAN NOT GIVE RELIEF, BUT FIGHT TO CONTINUE.

NEW ORLEANS COOPERATES TO OVERTHROW BOSSES

Powerful Influence Will Be Brought to Bear—Telegrams Refute Arguments of Speculators.

Upon receipt of a message yesterday from Allison Mayfield, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, stating that the commission had no means of controlling the manipulations of those who control the steamship space and tonnage, plans were started to seek aid from other sources. One of the next steps will be to bring powerful influence to bear on the Interstate Commerce Commission to have that body force lower rates from Texas common points to New Orleans to the same level as the rate to Galveston. This will be done through the co-operation of Texas exporters with leading New Orleans exporters and organizations there, who are anxious to get the Texas cotton for that port. James T. Brock is in communication with the New Orleans parties, all of whom promise their best efforts to bring about the much needed rate adjustment. Other important steps in the fight will be made at once. The move is so broad and vigorous that it is believed the brokers will be curbed, and the shippers given a better deal than they are now receiving.

While the New Orleans ocean rates are no cheaper than those prevailing at Galveston, the cotton exporters contend that the charges at each place would be materially reduced if they could ship to New Orleans. Competition would be created among the brokers at the two ports, and in their efforts to get cotton to fill the space they have grabbed up they would cut rates, it is claimed, and thereby afford relief to the present situation.

No Scarcity of Tonnage.
In order to ascertain whether or not any freight room was available out of New Orleans for foreign ports, a prominent Wacoan who is not actively engaged in the cotton business, sent some telegrams to New Orleans, and the replies indicate that the scarcity of tonnage claimed by the speculators is mere fiction. Here is an extract of one of the telegrams from New Orleans to the Wacoan:

"We offer your firm 5000 bales of freight room for Liverpool, September loading, at 65; 4500 bales Liverpool Tramp, at 60; 5000 bales for Bremen at 60."

"Since wiring you early in the day, we offer you 2000 bales to Havre at 15."

These telegrams, local cotton exporters say, refute the argument that there is scarcity of tonnage.

"If New Orleans brokers can offer freight room for 20,000 bales of cotton in two hours' notice, how much could they offer in two days' notice?" commented James T. Brock, the Waco exporter, upon reading the telegrams. "Figure it out and see the force of their argument."

"We should demand of Texas railroads equal rates to New Orleans. One port will not suffice for the Texas business."

The letter received yesterday by Mr. Brock from Allison Mayfield, chairman of the Railroad Commission, reads:

Austin, Aug. 28, 1912.
Mr. James T. Brock,
Waco, Texas.

Dear Sir:

We have your letter of August 26th in relation to the arbitrary and exorbitant export rates now prevailing from Galveston to foreign ports.

The general manager of the Galveston Wharf Company was here this week and what he told me fully confirms what you have to say on this subject, but it is a matter which this commission has no means of controlling or interfering with, and we do not believe such a power exists anywhere.

While we deeply regret that such a condition should be temporarily possible we are unable to see any way whatever by which we could come to your assistance.

Yours very truly,
ALLISON MAYFIELD,
Chairman.

FIRE MENACES SKYSCRAPER.

Blaze on Thirteenth Floor of Southwestern Building.

Special to The Morning News.
Dallas, Tex., Aug. 29.—Originating from an unknown cause, fire started on the thirteenth floor of the Southwestern Life Insurance building, corner Main and Akard streets, at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and entailed a loss to the building of about $200. In the room was stored electrical fixtures. The fire department answered a call to the building. The blaze was extinguished by the emergency chemicals.

WILSON PLEADS FOR THE PEOPLE

BELIEVES MASSES WAKING UP TO MONOPOLY ON THEIR RIGHTS.

PARCELS POST BY JANUARY 1

POSTMASTER GENERAL HITCHCOCK BEGINS ORGANIZING NEW SERVICE.

By The Associated Press.
Washington, Aug. 29.—Governor Woodrow Wilson did a little stump speaking today in spite of himself. Not intending to make any scheduled addresses, he was greeted by such big crowds at both Lancaster and Harrisburg that the candidate found himself making speeches from both ends of his car, shaking hands with hundreds and waving his hat.

"I am very much more interested in you than you are in me," said the governor, "because the interesting and delightful part of campaigning as I have found it has been that the country is witnessing an uprising of the people. A crowd like this means business. You are discovering not only that the government belongs to you but that if you only 'hump' yourselves, it will belong to you."

"I don't mean to stir up passion or feeling. I simply mean that we must get together again. That is what I am interested in; and the reason I said I was interested in you more than you are in me, is that I know the strength of a public man is in proportion to those men who are gathered with him."

The speech was cheered.
The governor also was greeted by a large crowd at Harrisburg, where he stopped only a short time on his way to Williams Grove.

As Governor Woodrow Wilson left Philadelphia today for Williams Grove, Pa., to deliver his first campaign speech outside of New Jersey, he was joined by a delegation of about one hundred prominent Democrats from all parts of the state, led by George W. Guthrie of Pittsburgh. Democratic state chairman, and Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer. The party traveled in two special cars to Harrisburg, from where it is planned to make the 13-mile trip to Williams Grove by automobile.

Colonel Roosevelt's analogy that benefits of the protective tariff system constituted "prize money" of which too much was kept by the officers and too little distributed to the crew, was criticized by Governor Wilson today. He wanted to know in his speech before the state grangers' picnic just where the "prize money" came from. He said the "plunder" came from the farmer who was taxed too highly by the tariff on agricultural implements.

The governor confined himself to the tariff and how it affected the farmer and drew attention to President Taft's veto of the farmers' free list bill.

"I dare say he was right from his point of view," said Governor Wilson of President Taft. "For he represented the trustees and not the people."

The governor argued that the gov-

BOOTH WILL MADE PUBLIC

MOST OF PERSONAL PROPERTY WORTH $240, GOES TO ARMY.

Henry Reed Gift of $26,545 for Private Use Divided Among Late General's Children.

By The Associated Press.

London, Aug. 29.—A summary of the will left by the late General Booth was made public today. All the properties held by him as general of the Salvation Army and all like public trusts, both real and personal, including copyrights, are vested in his successor as general for the time being of the Salvation Army, to be held by him "upon trusts affecting same."

By a codicil he gives his small private property, having a net value of £487, 18s (approximately $2400), to the Salvation Army, with the exception of certain private papers and memoranda, which are given to his eldest son, Bramwell, and a few articles chosen by himself which are given as mementos to each of his children and children-in-law.

Another codicil deals with property estimated at £5895 ($26,545) representing monies settled on him many years ago by the late Henry Reed for private use. It was this provision which enabled him to draw no stipend or remuneration of any kind from the funds of the army. This property is divided among his children, Bramwell, Katherine, Marian, Herbert, Eva and Lucy. His successor, Bramwell Booth, is appointed executor of his will.

WANAMAKER REPORTED ILL.

Philadelphia, Aug. 29.—John Wanamaker, merchant and former postmaster-general, is reported to be seriously ill at his son's home in Atlantic City, but at his home it was denied.

50,000 ATTEND BOOTH BURIAL

PROCESSION LARGEST SINCE THE DEATHS OF VICTORIA AND EDWARD VII.

LESS SERIOUS IN NICARAGUA

ADMIRAL SUTHERLAND LANDS AND TAKES CHARGE OF SITUATION.

By The Associated Press.

London, Aug. 29.—The body of the founder of the Salvation Army, General Wm. Booth, was buried today beside that of his wife in the old cemetery of Abney Park, in the heart of the east end of London, where the great evangelist began the work that spread over the entire world. No such a gathering of the populace on funeral occasions has been witnessed here anywhere except upon the deaths of Queen Victoria and King Edward VII.

Several thousand Salvationists, the men and women composing the 48 divisions of the army from the London provinces, carrying their banners of "blood and fire" and keeping step to well known Salvationist tunes, played by forty bands, marched over the five miles from the army headquarters in Queen Victoria street to the burial ground through muddy streets, after being drenched by a downpour of rain.

Same Crowds Once Jeered.
It was more in the nature of a triumphal progress than an occasion of mourning. In the same streets only a few years ago not a few of those who marched today had been mobbed and jeered. No one could estimate the numbers who had assembled everywhere, gathered to witness the passing of the funeral of the late commander-in-chief. All the streets and windows along the march were crowded and even house-tops were jammed with silent throngs. Flags along the route drooped, rain soaked, at half mast and many of the business houses were closed.

50,000 Gather at Grave.
The multitude in and about the cemetery numbered not less than 50,000. The new commander, Bramwell Booth, himself pronounced a long eulogy and read the committal service when his father's body was lowered into the grave. As Bramwell Booth was approaching the grave Herbert Booth, dressed in civilian clothes, stepped forward and kissed the new general on the cheek.

The mayor of Stoke-Newington and the mayor of Hackney, in their robes of office, were seated on the platform with the Booth family. Mrs. Katherine Booth-Kilborne, the late general's eldest daughter, who for years had been estranged from the army, with her husband and their twelve children, sat among the mourners.

Miss Eva Booth, commander of the army in the United States, who arrived in London just in time to walk behind her father's coffin, broke down with grief and fatigue. Mrs. Booth-Heiberg begged the audience to excuse her sister from speaking, but the army leader was anxious to hear the American leader and she came forward, Bramwell Booth and Mrs. Heiberg supporting her. Miss Booth said:

"I am worn out with travel and grief, but I must deliver my message from the army across the water. My beloved father never lost the hold which he established there so long ago, and we feel his loss as keenly as the English corps. He looked forward with so much joy to the visit which he had planned to make to America this year. But God is with us and the work will go on."

With the exclamation: "Oh, my beloved father," Miss Booth broke down and was assisted to her seat.

Soldiers Faint.

SOLDIERS FOR TEXAS BORDER

SITUATION IN STATE OF SONORA IS SAID TO BE VERY SERIOUS.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 29.—The Mexican government has ordered federal troops to hasten to a point between Hermosillo and Nogales in the state of Sonora for the protection of two Americans, Frank B. Curtis and Arthur Cunningham, who are beset by rebels thirsting for revenge. The Americans had been left in charge of a mining camp at L. Oro and have killed several rebels in trying to protect the company's property from raiders.

Army officers along the boundary line reported to the war department that from the information they gather from refugees, the conditions in the state of Sonora are bad. The war department has about concluded that it will be necessary to materially strengthen the American border patrol on the western part of the line and General Steever has indicated that he probably will need more cavalry. The men are being gotten ready at Fort Riley, Kansas, and Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, to entrain and proceed to Arizona and Southern California as soon as General Steever gives the word.

STEEVER RETURNS CALL.
By The Associated Press.
Juarez, Mex., Aug. 29.—General E. Z. Steever, commander of the department of Texas, accompanied by commanding officers of the second cavalry and 32nd infantry, crossed the international boundary today and called upon General Teles, commander of the Mexican federal troops. The visit was a return of the call General Teles made upon General Steever at Fort Bliss Tuesday.

VOLUNTEERS AFTER REBELS.
Insurrecto Losses Were More Than Twenty and Some Loot.
By The Associated Press.
Cananea, Sonora, Mexico, Aug. 29.—Bringing in fifty horses and saddles, twenty-five mules loaded with provisions and munitions of war and $500, all captured from the rebels, a band of forty volunteers in the government service returned here today after heating insurrectos in a series of sharp engagements that began last Saturday. The rebel losses in the engagements were more than twenty, including four prisoners, one of whom was a woman camp follower who was captured with a rifle in her hands.

The fighting began at Haviacera. Forty volunteers surprised sixty rebels and killed 17. At Huacop next day the government forces came upon more rebels and the fighting lasted several hours before a supporting band came to the rescue of the volunteers and flanked the insurrectos, driving them to the hills. The rebels also were beaten in a battle at Huacop Monday and all their stores captured.

OHIO ENTERTAINS TAFT

PRESIDENT IS CENTRAL FIGURE AT COLUMBUS CELEBRATION.

Back to Beverly Today to Continue Rest—Demented Woman Claims to Be His Wife.

By The Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 29.—President Taft came to Columbus today to help the city celebrate the centenary of its birth as the capital of Ohio. For 19 hours the president was the central figure of all the ceremonies that his friends and the celebration committee could devise. He breakfasted with a governor, a mayor, and a congressman; dined with a bar association. He made speeches to the farmers of his home state from a stand on the state fair grounds, and to the lawyers at $10 a plate banquet to-night; he shook hands with a few thousand persons at the fair grounds and in the rotunda of the state capitol and kissed a few babies.

It was a day typical of the travel scenes of the president and apparently he enjoyed every minute. The setting was complete, even up to the case of a demented woman who tried to see him at his hotel and was arrested by the police. She declared that she was the president's wife.

Leaving Columbus early tomorrow, the president is due back in Beverly Saturday to take up his vacation. During the day the president received a message from General Wood, chief of staff of the army, who is in Washington, conveying the information that his order to send the Tenth infantry to Nicaragua from Panama had been cancelled as directed. He again expressed the belief that marines now in Nicaragua or en route to that republic will be able to protect Americans.

WHY TAFT RECALLED ORDER.
Public Sentiment Accepts the Marine But Rejects Soldier.
By The Associated Press.
Washington, Aug. 29.—Adverse criticism of the State Department's Central American policy during the closing hours of the last session of the Senate with intimations that an American army would be sent to Nicaragua soon after Congress adjourned, are believed by some officials here to be the reasons which actuated President Taft in revoking the order sending the Tenth infantry from the canal zone to Nicaragua.

All authorities on international law in the state, war and navy departments practically are agreed that there is no technical difference between the Khaki-clad soldier and the marine or bluejacket when employed as a landing force in a foreign country, which invariably associates the landing of soldiers with actual warfare and a permanency of purpose. On the other hand, marine and bluejackets are so frequently called upon for the most

OIL MEN ARE BEFORE COURT

JOHN SEALY AND OTHERS TO ANSWER AN INDICTMENT.

SHERMAN LAW VIOLATION

Is Charge Made by the Federal Inspectors at Dallas—Hits Magnolia Company.

By The Associated Press.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 29.—Late this afternoon the federal grand jury of the Northern District of Texas returned an indictment against a number of prominent oil men of Texas and also others, representatives of the Standard Oil company. The charge is restraint of trade and commerce among the several states and unlawful conspiracy and combination in violation of the anti-trust law.

It is alleged the individual defendants and the Standard Oil company and the Magnolia Petroleum company conspired to destroy the business of the Pierce-Fordyce Oil Association of Texas.

The specific offense is alleged to have occurred June 29, 1912. The following are named in the indictment: Calvin N. Payne of Titusville, Pa.; John D. Archibald, of New York; Henry C. Folger, Jr., of New York; John Sealy, of Galveston; A. C. Eble, of Dallas; E. R. Brown, of Corsicana; W. C. Teagle, of Plainfield, N. J.; and the Standard Oil company of New York and the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and the Magnolia Petroleum company of Texas.

The Magnolia Petroleum company was organized in May, 1911. Its officers and trustees include some of the most prominent and influential business men in the state. The officers of the company are as follows: John S. Sealey, president; O. C. Edwards, vice president; E. R. Brown, second vice president; Courtney Marshall, secretary and assistant treasurer; W. C. Proctor, treasurer and assistant secretary.

Its principal offices are at Beaumont, but it has branches in many parts of the state. The trustees of the company include John Sealey and R. Waverly Smith of Galveston, O. C. Edwards of New York, E. R. Brown of Corsicana and Geo. C. Greer of Beaumont.

It is a matter of history that John Sealey who is a well known banker at Galveston bought in the Security Oil company and the Navarro Refining company in 1909. Mr. Sealey operated an oil business under the style of John Sealey & Company until the latter part of April, 1911, when it was taken over by the Magnolia Petroleum company, a joint association which is unincorporated. The Magnolia company is composed of some of the strongest business men in Texas.

The appearance of prominent oil men of Texas before the grand jury and a statement several days ago that alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law were being investigated caused the result of the jury's investigation to be awaited with interest.

Walter S. Benham, an examiner from the Department of Justice at Washington, is assisting in the jury's investigation.

The investigation was made by a special United States Grand Jury, under the direction of District Attorney William H. Atwell, for the Northern District of Texas.

Judge Thomas S. Maxey of Austin, Judge of the United States court for that district, is presiding at this session of the Northern District of Texas court, in the absence of Judge Meek. After the grand jury of twenty men, with F. F. Slinney of Dallas as foreman, was chosen Judge Maxey delivered his charge, telling the jury, in substance, that it had been called in special session for the purpose of considering violations of the Sherman act, commonly called the anti-trust statutes, matters pertaining to which would be presented to them by District Attorney Atwell. Judge Maxey expressed his conviction that the jury would listen attentively to what was presented and perform their duties in accordance with their judgment.

Judge Maxey's charge was very brief and devoid of any specific explanation of the alleged anti-trust law violations under investigation.

Among the witnesses examined were M. S. Herman, Fort Worth; E. M. Hackett, Dallas; John R. Jackson, Ft. Worth; John D. Turner, Ft. Worth; J. C. Snow, Ball

ANTI-TRUST DECREE VIOLATED.

First Effort to Enforce the Decision of the Court.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—The indictment of the Standard Oil officials at Dallas, it is said at the Department of Justice, is the result of a three-months investigation of charges that the decree dissolving the so-called trust had been violated. The government, it is added, has not yet decided whether it will proceed on the question of the violation of the decree which would involve contempt proceedings. The Texas grand jury considered the question under the criminal feature of the Sherman law.

Contempt proceedings would have to be undertaken directly before a federal court. Such action is beyond the function of a grand jury. The indictment returned today, however, it is pointed out, will not bar the government from prosecuting for contempt of court in case that course is considered desirable. Officials of the Department of Justice believe, it is declared, that the initial move in the case should be made through a grand jury and then, if it developed that an indictment did not promise to satisfy the law's demands, they could resort to contempt proceedings as well. The special grand jury which returned the indictment has been working on the case since last Tuesday when it was convened to consider the government's allegation and charges. The celerity with which it completed its work surprised officials here.

First Move Against Standard.

Today's action constituted the government's first move against the Standard Oil company since it was dissolved last November under the mandate of the Supreme court of the United States into its thirty-three component parts to restore competition. A fight between Standard Oil interests and the Waters-Pierce Oil company, now pending in the federal court at St. Louis, involves the faithfulness of the Standard Oil in carrying out the decree of dissolution. The federal government is not a party to this suit, which was brought nominally by the state of Missouri to compel the inspectors of the election of officers of the Waters-Pierce Oil company at St. Louis last February to vote the proxies of the Rockefeller and other Standard Oil interests which are said to have named Standard Oil men as officials of the company. The inspectors refused on the ground that it would violate the dissolution decree.

WOMAN HURT IN EXPLOSION.

Mrs. Yop Masca Probably Fatally Burned in Coal Oil.

By The Associated Press.

Dallas, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Yop Masca, twenty-seven years old, poured coal oil into a wood stove at her home, 3708 Carl street, yesterday afternoon and an explosion followed. The woman was burned so seriously that her life is despaired of by physicians at St. Paul's sanitarium.

Yop Masca had returned home from his work at about 5:30 o'clock and his wife was in the kitchen preparing the evening meal. The fire had burned low and the woman took a can of kerosene oil and poured it into the stove. The explosion was immediate and flying oil set fire to the woman's clothing.

Mrs. Masca, shrieking in agony, ran out of the back door and her husband hastily grabbing some sheets and blankets from a bed, threw her down and extinguished the blaze. Her lower limbs and the lower part of her body were badly burned and there is only a slight chance for her recovery.

WILSON SCORES TARIFF SYSTEM

DECLARES FARMER NEEDS NO PROTECTION AGAINST EUROPE.

INVADES PENNSYLVANIA

Governor Addresses Thousands—Taft Is Shown Up as Enemy of the People's Interests.

By The Associated Press.

On Board Governor Wilson's Special Car Easton, Pa., Aug. 29.—Governor Wilson invaded Pennsylvania today, intending only to make one address at the state grangers' picnic at Williams Grove, south of Harrisburg. The governor was surrounded by such big crowds wherever his train stopped that he found, when he crossed from Pennsylvania into New Jersey at Easton, tonight, that he had made half a dozen speeches, had shaken hands with thousands of people and had talked collectively to a multitude.

It was the opening of the campaign outside of New Jersey, and the day's events were plainly a surprise to the governor. He had looked for no demonstration, as his train plans were not decided upon until the last moment. But from early morning until night-fall the crowds gathered at the railroad stations and cheered enthusiastically.

The governor in all rode 215 miles in Pennsylvania and when night came he was tired and hoarse. At Lancaster, Harrisburg, Williams Grove, Reading, Allentown and Easton, great crowds jammed the railroad yards and the governor competed in his talks with the noise of locomotives and trains.

Blacksmith Gripped Hard.

At handshaking, as well as at back platform stumping, the governor had a strenuous time. A brassy blacksmith, wrung the governor's hand so hard at Williams Grove that for a moment the governor dropped his right hand limply to his side and extended his left hand. The governor said tonight his hand still pained him from the experience.

Several thousand people wedged themselves in the big auditorium at Williams Grove to hear the governor's principal speech, but far more were unable to gain entrance and the governor made a second speech outdoors. The governor digressed materially from his prepared speech, but developed much the same line of thought, criticizing Col. Roosevelt's tariff views and taking issue with President Taft's veto of the farmer's free list bill. He referred indirectly to political conditions in Pennsylvania, as outlined by Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, who introduced the governor and spoke of the Penrose revelations.

Attacks Protective Tariff.

"I do not know how many republicans there are here within the sound of my voice, at least those who have been republicans, but are on the anxious seat," said the governor in his first speech at Williams Grove, "but I want to say that I entirely respect, though I do not at all understand their reverence for the doctrine of protection. I haven't any reverence for any economic doctrine whatever except so far as it works. Now the doctrine of protection is worth looking into as it works. It has been said, and it has been said so often that you have believed it, that the doctrine of protection was maintained in our politics for the benefit of the farmers of the United States. I am perfectly willing to admit that there are low duties levied on the products of farms coming from other countries, but whoever heard of the farmer of the United States who needed to be protected against the farmer of Europe.

American Farmer Feeds World.

"As a matter of fact nobody ever feared that foreign grain and foreign farm products of any kind would come in competition with the farm product of the United States for the very good reason that we have produced so much that we have been feeding the world, and the great surplus of the farms has gone out at our ports across the great waters which separate us from other continents and men all over the world have thanked God for the fertility of the fields of America.

"The American farmer never has been protected for the very good reason that he never needed to be protected and his grains have been sold at prices established by the prices which his product commanded in the foreign markets. That is an economic fact. Very well, then, your prices are not established by protection. They are established by your abundance which you ship to foreign countries, you use on the farm, everything that you wear and a great deal of what you eat, but do not yourselves produce, including meats, bears a heavy duty which brings about the interesting result that you are paying for the wealth of the United States and getting nothing or equivalent to it so far as the tariff is concerned. Now that has not just begun to be true. It has always been true, but you have had such confidence in some of your leaders that you haven't allowed yourselves to think about it at all; because, if you had thought about it, you could have thought this thing out in five minutes.

"I have never believed, no thinking man has ever believed, that the people of the great state of Pennsylvania approved of the things that were notoriously done by the political leaders of that great state. The character of the people of Pennsylvania and the character of their government have been utterly unlike one another, and yet it is not true that you are not surprised by recent revelations; you have sat by while the trustees did what they pleased with the government of this celebrated, this rich, this powerful, this enlightened commonwealth. Pennsylvania has sat by inactive while that kind of government has been carried on with the apparent acquiescence of her own voters.

what they pleased with the government of this celebrated, this rich, this powerful, this enlightened commonwealth. Pennsylvania has sat by inactive while that kind of government has been carried on with the apparent acquiescence of her own voters.

Says Taft Not for People.

"What happened in the congress which has just adjourned? The house of representatives with the acquiescence of the senate which is not democratic, passed what was known as the farmers' free list bill. What did congress do? It put agricultural implements on the free list; it put lumber on the free list, and shingles on the free list and meat on the free list and salt on the free list and bagging and ties for the southern farmer who needs the bagging and the ties for his cotton. And what happened to it? It was vetoed by the president, and let me say parenthetically that I have a high personal respect for Mr. Taft, but Mr. Taft has not given himself these wide connections of sympathy which enable a man to understand the demands of the people of the United States. Mr. Taft vetoed that free list because, consciously or unconsciously, he represents, not the people or the United States, but those who have held their power in trust for their own purposes.

"You hear of corrupt influences, gentlemen. You hear of those corrupt influences being exerted here, there, everywhere, that they can be exerted. I would be ashamed if I said things to say of the other if I was guilty and I am willing to admit that in certain instances, in certain places, among other places in the state of New Jersey the leaders—a little handful, but nevertheless the leaders—of the democratic party have had alliance with these corrupt influences and the worst machine you can get up against is not a machine that is altogether republican, or altogether democratic, but a machine that is made up of both of them and that works together at every turn of public affairs.

"The men that conduct those machines are a small fraction of the party that they pretend to represent and that the men who exercise corrupt influences on them are a small fraction of the business men of the United States. And what we are bonded together to fight against is not a party, is not a great body of citizens, but a little coterie, a group of men here and there, a few men who subsist by deceiving us.

Going to Have His Fun.

"The chairman of the meeting, Mr. Cressy, kindly referred to me as the next president of the United States. Now I don't know whether I am to be or not, but I do know this: that I am going to have just as much fun one way as the other. I would like to have the fighting advantage that that great office would give, but having been born of a fighting breed, I don't have to have the office to do the fighting. I have enlisted for life and I don't have to be an officer. I can shoot just as straight as a private."

temporary service as to excite little comment.

From a military point of view, it is said at the State Department the only effect of the President's action of last night will be to slightly retard the assembling of a sufficient American force in Nicaragua to insure the maintenance of communication between the American legation in Managua and the warships at Corinto, 72 miles away.

It is not believed that American interests or lives will be in great danger for the next two or three days, especially as knowledge of the purpose of the United States to use only a necessary amount of force to accomplish the purposes announced by Minister Weitzel is fully known to the rebel leaders.

The navy's reinforcements are beginning to report their arrival in Nicaragua. The gunboat Denver arrived at Corinto on Tuesday, but the dispatch announcing that fact to the navy department did not reach here until early today. Besides reporting the arrival of the gunboat the dispatch said the cruiser California yesterday was to land about 400 marines and blue jackets at Corinto and steam for Panama to embark the 750 marines which the Prairie is now speeding to Colon for transportation across the isthmus.

MARINES WERE FIRED ON.

Rebels Forced Them Away From Repair Work.

By The Associated Press.

Bluefields, Nic., Aug. 29.—Official information was received here today that the fifty marines fired on Saturday by rebels while repairing the railroad between Managua and Leon escaped without injury. Though forced temporarily to retire, they resumed and took up the repair work. The marines were forced to make a part of the return to the capital on foot. After completing the repairs, they entered Leon and there parleyed with the revolutionists in control. Their work train was taken from them and they were forced to face a tramp back to Managua. On the way they encountered a government train, however, on which they were carried to the capital.

Major Butler has been recalled to Managua with a reinforcement of troops. Corinto, protected by the gunboats Annapolis, Denver and Justin, is considered a refuge point for Americans.

Telegraph wires are operating between here and Managua but they are out of commission from Managua westward. Conditions along this part of the coast are quiet.

BECKER DEFENSE RIFLED

LITTLE STRENGTH GIVEN RE-PORT OF WALL STREET DEALS.

Mayor and Police Commissioner May Testify in Trial—Criminals Reported Caught.

By The Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 29.—The defense set up in behalf of Police Lieutenant Becker, alleged instigator of the Rosenthal murder and accused of gambling graft, that he accumulated his fortune of nearly $100,000 through stock speculation, was punctured today when James A. March, the lawyer, declared before the grand jury that there was no truth in the statements attributed to him that he engineered the police officer's stock speculations.

March had been quoted as saying that he and Becker had a joint account and that as a result of his tips Becker had made thousands through stock deals.

When the lawyer was first questioned by the jury he is understood to have said in a general way that he acted for Becker in stock transactions, but could not furnish specific details. He added, it was learned, that he had acted in a similar capacity for others, naming an Italian banker. This banker was immediately subpoenaed and appeared before the jury. March was then recalled and after being closely questioned by the jury stated, it was learned, that he had never conducted any deals for Becker worth mentioning.

District Attorney Whitman received information today which leads him to believe that "Lefty Louie" and "Gyp the Blood," the missing thugs wanted as the actual slayers of Rosenthal, are being kept in hiding not far from New York by police friends of Lieut. Becker. The prosecutor heard that it was planned to produce them at the proper time as witnesses for the lieutenant. "Lefty Louie," he was told, was anxious to testify that Harry Valon was the man who fired the shots that killed Rosenthal and would disclose a motive on Valon's part for wanting to kill the gambler.

Another report came to the district attorney today that the missing men sailed last Tuesday for Europe, having been in hiding in the city ever since the murder.

Thomas Coupe, an eye witness of the murder, who testified before the grand jury, has mysteriously disappeared and Mr. Whitman was told that he had sailed for Europe. The prosecutor declared tonight that Coupe's testimony could be spared, but expressed the fear that some of his more important witnesses might be spirited away in a similar manner. He had no legal way of detaining them, he added.

Becker's trial will begin, if present plans are adhered to, before any testimony is taken in the John Doe proceedings before Justice Goff to expose police corruption.

After formally opening the proceedings next Tuesday Justice Goff will adjourn them until September 11, when the special grand jury will be empaneled. The trial of Becker will probably begin the day previous before the usual petit jury of twelve. Testimony of value for the John Doe investigation will be developed, it is expected during the Becker trial.

There is a strong probability, it was intimated at the district attorney's office today, that both Mayor Gaynor and Police Commissioner Waldo would be called as witnesses during the investigation.

The report that James W. Osborne, a well known criminal lawyer, had been engaged as special counsel to assist in the investigation was declared by Whitman today to be untrue.

COUNTY CLERK'S RECORDS SHOW REAL ESTATE DULL

Tuesday's Transactions Only $1100, Other Deeds Old Ones---Clerks Catch Up With Work First Time Since Last October.

BUSINESS LAST TWO WEEKS TOTALS ONLY $75,310

That real estate business is dull, as was stated Tuesday in an interview given by T. J. Primm, is further evidenced by the fact that copying clerks in the county clerk's office caught up with their work Thursday for the first time since last October. Until Thursday, the clerks have been from one to two weeks behind in copying the deeds which have been filed for record. Had the usual rush in realty been continued, the clerks would still be behind with their work. They have gradually been gaining on it, however, since the agitation for the local option election was started, and Thursday copied all deeds which were filed Thursday for record.

Relative to the big business in real estate circles Tuesday, August 27, concerning which prohibitionists have published stories, a thorough investigation of the business actually transacted Tuesday includes deeds for only two sales, one amounting to $800 and the other $300, making a total of $1100. The total consideration recited in all deeds which were filed for record Tuesday amounts to $30,323.33. Included in this amount is the $1100 for two deeds executed and filed Tuesday.

Washington, Aug. 29.—The United States will insist that adequate punishment be meted out to the Cuban newspaper reporter who assaulted Hugh S. Gibson, the American charge d'affaires at Havana. Austin 8, Dallas 8.

By The Associated Press.

Dallas, Aug. 29.—The third game of the Dallas-Austin series developed into a slug-fest, in which the home team led in hitting but the visitors won 8 to 8. The result was in doubt until the final inning, as both teams were hitting the pitchers of the opposition all over the lot, and the fielding was ragged and disheartening. Kellerman retired after the fourth inning because of a disabled limb and was replaced by Clements who made a poor showing at playing shortstop.

New York 4, Brooklyn 3.

By The Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 29.—New York won from Brooklyn, 4 to 3, taking the game by scoring twice in the ninth inning, largely through Brooklyn's misplays. Meyer's pop fly to left was allowed to drop safe. Devore ran for Myers. Fletcher singled, but Devore might have been forced at second had not Moran thrown wide to that base. Devore scored after an out had moved up the two runners, when Kirkpatrick flied to Snodgrass' grounder and Rick flied to Snodgrass' grounder and Rick flied to Snodgrass' grounder. Doyle's hit scored Fletcher with the winning run. Northern's hitting and a great catch by him were the features.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Chicago bunched hits today off Harmon after St. Louis had taken the lead, and won out, 10 to 6. Schulte made a home run in the first inning, after which Harmon pitched airtight ball until a batting bee of the locals was started in the fifth. It continued throughout the next two innings, netting enough runs to win. Errors by Chicago and opportune hitting by St. Louis gave the visitors their score:

ENGAGED IN PUBLIC ROAD PROMOTION WHEN HEART FAILS.

Sudden Death of Dr. A. H. McCord on Irby Mountain, Near Rusk.

Dr. McCord was president of the Young Men's Business League of this place. Heart disease caused his death. The Young Men's Business League was attempting to build a good road from Rusk to the Attoy Valley, ten miles from here. Four hundred business men and farmers had assembled at the Irby Mountain to lay out the road. Dr. McCord had just arrived at the scene of the work in a buggy when he was attacked, dying almost instantly.

FLUCTUATION IN COTTON

ADVANCE EASES OFF, NEARING WEDNESDAY'S LOW LEVEL.

Rise Above 11 Cents for December Attracts Lively Selling—Demand Soon Slackens.

By The Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 29.—After an early advance, the cotton market turned easier today and closed easy at a net decline of 8 to 12 points. The opening was steady at an advance of 1 point and prices sold about 6 to 7 points net higher during the early trading on a continuation of yesterday's late covering movement, reports of a moderate demand from spinners, fairly steady Liverpool cables and buying for a pre-holiday rally.

The advance above 11c for December seemed to attract quite a good deal of selling, and offerings from prominent spot brokers caused more or less irregularity during the morning, but demand showed a tendency to increase and before midday active months sold 6 to 9 points net higher, or about 20 points above the low level of yesterday morning. Demand slackened around these prices, and after a short period of hesitation the market became weak. Buyers of yesterday and this morning, who had evidently been operating for a reaction rather than for any immediate sustained advance, became sellers, while there was a renewal of bear pressure and considerable southern selling, under which prices broke into new low grounds for the day and to within 2 to 3 points of yesterday's lowest levels. The close was at practically the lowest.

Receipts 17,081 bales, against 12,649 last week and 51,601 last year. At Galveston 16,630, against 14,110 last year and at Houston 24,884, against 8,940 last year.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, Aug. 29.—Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 7 to 9 points on good cables and continued absence of rain in the western half of the cotton belt. Private cablegrams from Liverpool said that English spinners showed a disposition to buy at present prices. Telegrams from Texas stated that the crop in that state continued to deteriorate. Shorts bought covers and a moderate amount of fresh long buying came in. At the end of the first half hour of business prices were 9 to 11 points up. At a level of 11 to 13 points up selling orders increased, although the market held steady all the morning as the result of a private bureau report on the condition of the crop, showing a loss of 2.3 points for the month. Prices gradually fell off until they were only 2 points over yesterday's close. Sellers increased their purchases on the idea that the market was due for a turn upward before the close of the week, and a noon trading session was 6 to 7 points over yesterday's best figures. In the afternoon the market was soft under the large movement in Texas and reports that spot offerings were heavy. At 2 o'clock prices were 3 to 3 points under yesterday's final quotations. The close was quiet and steady at a net decline of 5 to 8 points.

BULLISH TONE IN WHEAT

DUE TO PREDICTIONS OF LIGHTER RECEIPTS IN SOUTHWEST.

Need of Rain in Kansas Lowers Corn Slightly—Oats Practically Unchanged.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Predictions of lighter receipts next week in the southwest bore some of the responsibility for the bullish temper that prevailed today in wheat. The market closed steady at a net advance of ¼¢. Corn wound up a shade to ¼¢ above last night, oats with a gain of ¼¢, and provisions 2½¢ to 17½¢ up.

Talk of a letup in the arrival of wheat at St. Louis made prices for the September delivery at that center notably strong and attracted much attention here, as primary receipts for today were heavily in excess of the corresponding time a year ago. Statements that frost danger in the Canadian northwest had been lessened and a bumper crop of 200,000,000 bushels was assured, forced many wheat traders to sell out in the last half of the day. Accordingly, the market receded somewhat from the top prices reached.

Need of rain in Kansas cut a figure in the strength of the corn market. Inability to procure ocean freight room prevented oats from gaining much headway.

Despite liquidating sales of September pork, the entire provision list felt the effect of an active general demand. At the end of the day prices showed advances all around—pork 2½¢ to 17½¢ and lard and ribs 5¢ to 17½¢.

The close follows:

Wheat—Sept. 94½¢ to 95¢, Dec. 94½¢ to 95¢, May 98½¢.

Corn—Sept. 74¢, Dec. 55½¢, May 54½¢.

Oats—Sept. 32½¢ to 33¢, Dec. 33½¢ to 34¢, May 35½¢ to 36¢.

COTTON SEED PRODUCTS.

By The Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 29.—Cotton seed oil was generally a shade higher under reports of freer crude offerings, a lack of outside speculative demand and a total liquidation in late weakness in cotton. Futures closed 2 to 4 points net lower. Sept. 6.27c, Oct. 6.33c, Nov. 6.06c, Dec. 5.99c, Jan. 5.99c, Feb. 6c, March 6.02c, prime crude 5.67c, prime summer yellow 6.32c to 6.33c, prime winter yellow 6.75c to 6.76c, prime summer white 6.75c to 6.76c.

DRY GOODS.

By The Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 29.—More activity was noted in the primary cotton goods market. Prices were named on cotton crashes, Turkish towels and cotton damask. Prices showed slight advances, but this did not deter buyers from operating freely for the next spring season. Sales of 35-inch standard print cloths were made for September delivery at 11-16c above the last quotations. In most places these goods could be obtained at 5c. There was a good demand for men's wear in winter weights. Cotton yarns rule quiet. Raw silk advanced again.

Liverpool.

By The Associated Press.

Liverpool, Aug. 29.—Spot cotton, increased demand, 4 points higher. American middling fair 7.24d, good middling 6.84d, middling 6.44d, low middling 6.29d, good ordinary 5.72d, ordinary 5.24d. Sales 6000 bales, of which 500 were for speculation and export, and included 5000 American. Receipts 1000 bales, including 300 American.

LOCAL COTTON MARKET.

Receipts So Far This Season Are in Excess of Last.

With yesterday's receipts at the Waco cotton yards approximating 300 bales, the total for the season reached slightly over 2700. Receipts up to August 29 of last year were 1446, little more than one-half the record of the present season. On August 29, 1910, only 416 bales had been brought to the local yards. On the corresponding date of 1909 the total was 1004. The figures go to show that the cotton crop this season is earlier than it has been in many years, this being due to the hot, dry weather.

Desiring to get some extra cash on hand, the farmers sold their crop rapidly the first two weeks, but now there is a tendency to hold for better prices. If the prices continue below the eleven-cent level, a large per cent of the crop will be held after September 1, according to cotton men.

STOCK ACTIVITY CURBED IN WHOLESALE MARKETS

ONLY A FEW OF STANDARD ISSUES MANIFEST FIRM TONE.

Advance of British Bank Rate to Four Per Cent Responsible for Halting Bulls.

By The Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 29.—While causing no surprise in well informed circles, today's advance in the British bank rate doubtless acted as a curb on any immediate resumption of bullish activity. Likewise it served to call attention to what is fast becoming a generally recognized fact—that the international monetary situation must be reckoned with in the development of the next four months. The 4 per cent rate is the highest posted since September of last year, but it was deemed inevitable, inasmuch as London private discounts were from ½ to ¾ per cent over the bank rate. It is most unusual for the great English institution to raise its discount at this particular period, the last previous occasion having been in the panic year of 1907, when the August rate was 4½ per cent and advanced to 7 per cent before the end of the year.

The only time in the course of the session when the stock market showed any degree of animation was in the last hour, some of the standard issues manifesting a firmer tone in connection with the announcement that Louisville and Nashville directors had voted a 20 per cent increase of stock lots offered at par. A 2 point decline in that issue resulted, however, with renewed dullness elsewhere, but final prices in Steel, Reading and Union Pacific were at or near the day's best.

Further irregularity and dullness were shown by the bond market, with total sales, par value, of $1,350,000. United States 2s, registered, advanced ¼ per cent and the coupons declined ½ per cent on call.

INCREASES DISCOUNT RATE.

Bank of England Raises As a Protective Measure.

By The Associated Press.

London, Aug. 29.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England was raised from three to four per cent today. The bank raised its rate as a protective measure against the influx of bills.

Although the institution is in a strong position to meet the gold exports to Egypt, the increasing number of American and other finance bills being offered made the money market nervously raise the discount rates, thus forcing bills into the Bank of England. This necessitated the raising of the bank rate a month earlier than was the case last year.

The indebtedness of the market to the bank in consequence of recent heavy discounting is expected to enable the central institution to make its higher rate effective.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE ALL OFF.

By The Associated Press.

Telephone Company and Union Men Make Statements.

Equipping each trouble wagon sent out by the Brazos Valley Telegraph and Telephone company and instructing the men employed to take care of the telephone lines under their jurisdiction, J. B. Earle, president of the company, yesterday declared that all negotiations, with the former employees of the company are at an end.

The trouble between the company and the men who recently quit work, was settled early this week, and the men were to return to work yesterday morning. When they reported at the office for duty and were assigned their places, they objected to going on the work with men who were, in fact, and declared to accept their positions. Mr. Earle then said that all negotiations were off.

The men who have been working for the company during the trouble agreed to remain at the work, and they were sent out on the wagons. One of the men, Moore by name, reported to Mr. Earle that he had been attacked the night before and assaulted.

The following statement was made to the Morning News last night by the secretary of the union:

Statement of Union Men.

To the Morning News:

The Waco papers of Wednesday stated that the differences between the Electrical union and the Brazos Valley Telegraph and Telephone company had been adjusted; that the strike had been settled and that the men were going back to work.

To keep the record straight and so that the citizens of Waco may be informed we wish to make the following statement:

It was arranged between the union and the strikers that the men were to go back under certain conditions in regard to wages and working rules. The company agreed to discharge some three or four non-union men who had been working while the job was unfair and the company also agreed that the union men who were coming back to work would not be required to work with the three other non-union men that the company was going to keep in its employ.

The union men went to the office Thursday morning ready for work and were ordered to go out to work under these non-union men, who had been appointed as foremen to run the work and give orders to the union men. On learning this, the union men refused to go to work, as the company's action in making these non-union men foremen was a direct violation of their agreement with the union and the committee which arranged the terms of settlement.

The strike against the Brazos Valley Telegraph and Telephone company is therefore still on.

Secretary Local No. 72, Independent Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Statement by J. B. Earle.

With reference to the statement of Mr. Leath I wish to say that the facts are that at a conference of business men of Walnut Springs, and at their request we called the strikers in to try to effect a compromise. The men were all present, also the union officials and Mr. Bushnell of the Central Labor Council. We got together on working

This total does not include the sales made locally by the 10 dealers in which the liquor was carried out by freight or wagons.

The greater part of these shipments went to Hillsboro, McGregor and Corsicana, Express company records show. Other prohibition towns also receive their proportionate part of the liquor.

If McLennan county goes dry, this business will be done from other towns.

HAVE A LIFE PURPOSE:

BE NOT A DRONE

It is so often heard by the women who take an active part in public measures that such and such a woman has no part in affairs outside of her home. These same women are observant and through their reading are in touch with what active life means. And yet, when an abuse needs the word of protest these same women will appeal to one who is avowedly for up-lifting causes and citizens. Why not the women who first notes lift her voice? Is she not as worthy to be heard as the other woman? And is not the adage, in union there is strength, ever applicable? The old story in the second reader is ever forceful. This tells of the father who showed his boys the incapacity of the one small twig. He bent it and it snapped. But he tied several of those twigs into a bundle and all his strength could not make them break. So it is with a united voice. Let the single woman's voice be heard and it is powerless. Let the many rise and something is gained. When the woman says she has no interest beyond her home, pray where does she draw the line? Does she not feel an interest in having her child drink pure water? Is the water confined within her home? Is not she anxious to have pure food on her table? Does the food not come from without? Does not every woman wish to have her family breathe pure air? Where is the air generated? Then is not every single woman vitally connected with the outside world? Is she not supremely selfish if she sits back with folded hands and waits for the few who are public spirited to secure for her the conditions which her own family enjoys? No, every single woman owes it to her sex and to her family to take an active part in all that purifies or elevates her home and her family.

There is another viewpoint for this subject. Is the idle life what is intended for woman? At once we hear the cry of domestic duties, as though every woman whose voice is heard without the home is a traitor to domesticity. Rather the reverse. If a woman is in the world, if she is in touch with human nature, and with the problems which life has to solve, she is all the more prepared to administer the domestic affairs to a more intelligent advantage. The woman who stagnates is an evil rather than a good. Away back so far that its origin can not be assigned is the German saying, "If we rest we rust." The woman's club here has adopted this for a motto. The rich woman has the leisure, therefore she owes it to her community to do something to make a higher citizenship and better homes around her. Take this one instance, a working woman who has a dissipated husband. She toils for her babes and she puts her little earnings in the bank for a rainy day. The law allows the husband to draw to the last sou and the woman goes some day to find she has not a penny. Does the woman of wealth and leisure owe it to these more unfortunate sisters to raise her voice in protest against such a law? Is she unsexed for so doing? The woman of wealth and leisure ought to have more influence. Is she doing right if she does not use this

THE WOMEN ARE INTERESTED #### IN HAVING INSPECTORS

There is now coming into discussion the value of an inspector for the homes of laundresses. But before mentioning the reason therefor, there is applicable the story of the negro whose boy attended a New York school. Last winter the boy being absent, the mother sent the excuse that he was out of school because he had smallpox. Consternation reigned in the schoolroom and the boy was sent home. In a short while the mother appeared to say that her son had that "men-in-git-us" which she could not spell, so she just wrote smallpox. It is too true that many of our negro homes here are infected. There is not only the "men-in-git-us," the small pox and kindred infections, but the dread tuberculosis is more prevalent among the negroes than the whites, far more. The white women send out their laundry to a clean home. They continue. The infectious disease comes and they are not notified. A member of the family is stricken and they know not from where the germ came. A case is known of last winter where the laundry was sent, and before it could be returned the laundress was dead and buried, from meningitis. The agitation is for the appointment of an inspector for the homes into which the clothes go. The inspection is not only for the infectious disease, but for the unsanitary conditions which breed the mosquito and generate the typhoid germ. The women are timely in their agitation. It has not yet reached Waco, but is not this something for the club women to discuss when next they come together?

THE MARY WEST CHAPTER

WITH MRS. R. S. LAZENBY

The August meeting of the Mary West chapter sustained in interest as well as attendance the former sessions of this wide-awake, patriotic body. Mrs. R. S. Lazenby opened her home and about forty members and guests responded. The contributors to the program were Mrs. N. E. Rogers and Mrs. Susan Thornton Price for the literary features, little Miss Willie May Kendall, and the Confederate choir for the musical. Mrs. Lazenby had let it be known that the afternoon marked the birthday of one of the chapter members, Mrs. Summer Oakes, so those who had been so notified appeared with tiny gifts for the surprised honoree. There was a refreshment feature and in all a very pleasant afternoon. The only out of town guest was Mrs. S. C. Lattimore of Dublin. Mrs. T. C. Edmundson is a new member. The next meeting will be with Mesdames J. C. Kelly and Hill as joint hostesses. After this regular bi-weekly meetings for the winter will be resumed. At the September meeting there will be the election of officers and delegates to the state convention.

A SOUTH SIDE WEDDING

SURPRISES FRIENDS

Many friends were pleasantly surprised on Thursday morning. This was occasioned by the news that Miss Willie Hickey of South Third street, was a bride. This was all a secret until Mrs. Anna Battle Wood, as the nearest friend, Mrs. Herbert of Houston, and Mr. and Mrs. Davis, as relatives of both the bride and groom, were requested to join the company in the home of Reverend and Mrs. J. G. Kendall. The ceremony was there conducted by Mr. Kendall. It was quite an impressive marriage, full of the sentiment which should accompany such a sacred moment. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will continue among their Waco friends. They have already joined the Hickey household out on South Third. The groom, formerly a resident of Oklahoma, is now identified with business in this city. His bride is from a Tennessee lineage which carries honor to the generations passed away. Congratulations in plenty were given during Thursday.

MISS LEE OF GALVESTON

HAS SOCIAL INTRODUCTION

There is now visiting in the city a charming young woman, Miss Emma Lee of Galveston, who is with Mrs. J. G. Wren. Her coming was the inspiration to Mr. and Mrs. Wren to invite a company for the Fish Pond pleasures on Wednesday evening. The drive out, ice-melons and the jollity which their cutting always engenders, were some of the diversions for about twenty couples. On Thursday morning Mrs. Wren matrimonized a game of bridge. There were five tables where the guests were principally the State University girls. This was in anticipation that Miss Lee is a "State" stu-

Society Notes.

Had you ever thought of the multiplicity in name for the projection to your house? Is it a porch, a veranda, a gallery, a balcony, a piazza--what is it, any way? The correct term if it is wide and long is a piazza, named for the broad extensions to houses in the far South. If it is merely a projection for entrance, call it a porch. There is never a gallery on the outside of a house. This is for the theater and other assembly halls where the second projection is inside.

LET US HAVE PEACE.

Governor Colquitt has asked Will H. Mayes, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, and Ben F. Looney, Democratic nominee for attorney general, to join him in a complete inspection of the penitentiary system. He wants them to get such an understanding of penitentiary conditions as will enable them to co-operate with him to some purpose in procuring necessary revisions of the law governing the management of the penal institutions.

According to one of the dispatches from Austin, making the above announcement, the governor feels able to outline the needed changes himself, but inasmuch as Messrs. Mayes and Looney are prohibitionists, and will probably be consulted by prohibitionist members of the legislature, their matured judgment of suggested reforms for the good of the system will doubtless be respected by the prohibitionists.

It is right and proper that the prospective lieutenant governor and the prospective attorney general should familiarize themselves with penitentiary conditions. It is, in fact, their duty to become thoroughly acquainted with the methods employed in looking after the state's prisoners. But why the suggestion that it is necessary to obtain their co-operation in a plan for the bettering of penitentiary conditions to insure support thereof from such members of the legislature who are prohibitionists?

Is it not time we were abandoning the habit of dividing on all questions according to our views with respect to prohibition? Has not the limit been reached in the practice of guaging subjects of needed legislation by the standing of those who broach them on the liquor question, so called? We have had several campaigns in which the alignment of the various candidates in the matter of prohibition was practically all that was inquired about. We have had two sessions of the legislature during which prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists alike spent most of their time trying to put one another "in the hole," instead of considering pending legislative propositions on their merits. What has the harvest been? Nothing but a crop of bitter animosities and irreconcilable differences.

In the meantime the state has suffered, its development has been retarded and demoralization has ensued where unity of purpose was most needed. For another legislature to come along and undertake to prolong the season of ill feeling and profitless antagonisms would be calamitous, and any tendency to encourage such a procedure should be deprecated.

Governor Colquitt's motive in asking Mr. Mayes and Mr. Looney to participate in a study of the penitentiary system is praiseworthy. He shows, by calling on those gentlemen to participate with him in the promotion of needed reforms, that he is not possessed of a selfish desire to monopolize whatever credit may be coming for any change for the better that may be brought about in the management of the state's prisons. He makes it plain that he is anxious to work in harmony with other members of the state administration. That ought to be enough, it seems to us, and there should be no suggestion that it is necessary to get the good will of Mr. Mayes and Mr. Looney to secure the co-operation of the prohibitionist contingent in the promotion of beneficial legislation.

Mr. Mayes and Mr. Looney are not mere factionists. Our estimate of them is such that we would consider it unfair to think that they could be influenced by their views on prohibition to assume a position on any public question that could be legitimately criticized, simply to run counter to some one who was an anti-prohibitionist. We feel certain that they will act upon the governor's suggestion in the same spirit in which it was offered, and for that reason we question the propriety of speculating upon the influence they will probably exert on the prohibitionist members of the legislature. We want to believe that the next session will be free from the turmoil that distinguished its immediate predecessors—that the agitators who have had full sway heretofore will be relegated to their proper places—hence our disapproval of expressions calculated to keep alive the lamentable divisions that have rendered orderly legislative procedure impossible in the past.

A VALUABLE TIP.

A semi-official review of the proceedings of the state meeting of the Farmers' union recently held in Fort Worth, recites, among other things, that the union is vitally interested in the better, neater and more condensed baling of cotton and favors the abandonment or revision of the present cotton grading system, as advocated by Senator Smith of South Carolina.

A few days ago we called attention to a statement coming from Senator Smith to the effect that he had become convinced that there is no difference in the tensile strength of the different grades of cotton. The senator also declares that the bleaching process which black or stained cotton is put through does not in any particular differ from that to which the whitest staple is subjected.

What struck us most forcibly in what the senator had to say, was his declaration that a modest appropriation of $4000, to enable the agricultural department to pursue investigations tending to establish the soundness of his conclusion that there is absolutely no good reason for the arbitrary distinction made between grades by the spinners, had been cut out of the general appropriation bill.

Inasmuch as a difference of from $2.50 to $15 in the value of a bale of cotton may be established under the present system of grading, it is undoubtedly worth while to prove that said system is the offspring of a too long accepted fiction. And if the spinners have been powerful enough to deprive the department of agricultural means with which to conduct experiments to establish the fact that they are unblushingly enriching the producer out of millions of dollars, the state of Texas might well take a hand in the game of exposing their duplicity.

Our suggestion would be that the next legislature appropriate at least $10,000 to equip the Agricultural and Mechanical college with the necessary machinery to pursue the subject to a finality. Should Senator Smith be proven correct in his assertions, the gain that would accrue to the growers of the 4,000,000 bales of cotton the state produces would be enormous, to say nothing of what it would mean to the entire South.

We ask nothing for the tip. It is free to the first ambitious legislator with intelligence enough to appreciate it and gumption enough to play it.

As an evidence of the harmony that is prevailing in the united Democratic party, the Democratic national committee is pointing with unconcealed pride to the operation of Governor Judson Harmon, Speaker Champ Clark, Representative Underwood, Governor Baldwin and Governor Foss in the campaign. These men were all active candidates for president on the Democratic ticket. The fact that another man was selected at Baltimore has made no difference to them. Governor Foss is campaigning in behalf of the Democratic ticket; Speaker Champ Clark and Representative Underwood have already taken an active part in the councils of the party, and Governor Baldwin and Governor Harmon will take the stump after September 1, and make as many speeches as may be required. Governor Marshall has gone to Maine and Mr. Underwood will come to New York the last of September and speak in adjacent states every day until November's election.

Still, it might be more productive of results if Sleuth Flynn of the U. S. secret service, and Sleuth Burns of dictograph notoriety, worked as a team in the hunt for police grafters in New York, instead of as employees of different branches of the city government.

In the matter of that Standard oil contribution, it's a question of veracity, with Senator Penrose on one side and Colonel Roosevelt and former Secretary Cortelyou on the other.

It's up to Senator Clapp and the members of his committee to find out how much truth there is in that sensational Penrose statement and let the public know.

Governor Wilson reviewed 600 babies at Asbury Park, but was far too foxy to try to pick the prettiest.

Anyway, let's hope we shall not have to send an army to Nicaragua to protect our marines now there.

NO JUSTICE IN RECALL METHOD

IS ASSERTION OF NEW YORK LAWYER BEFORE BAR ASSOCIATION.

CURTAIL JUDGES' POWER

Relieving Them of Temptation Is Advocated—Wm. H. Burgess of Texas Made Director.

By The Associated Press.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 29.—"One-eyed leaders of the blind" was the term used before the American Bar Association at its closing session today to describe those who seek judicial reform through the recall of judges. The association, after going on record as opposed both to the recalling of judges and to judicial decisions, declared that other methods must be employed to prevent delays in law suits. Various committees were appointed to report on plans for expediting court procedure.

Charles A. Boston of New York, asserted that one means of lessening criticism of the bench would be to provide for judges a written code of ethics such as has been put into effect by various state bar associations for lawyers.

Henry D. Estabrook, New York, after asserting that judicial recall was being urged by "one-eyed leaders of the blind," said:

"It is proposed to recall a judge from his high office to obscurity or disgrace whenever he decides a case, not necessarily contrary to what a number of people in his vicinity regard as law. It is proposed that a clique of voters may set in motion the vast and expensive machinery of an election for this purpose whenever and as often as they see fit. It is proposed that the issue shall be determined not by a majority vote of all eligible electors, who are perhaps indifferent to the proceedings, but a majority of those actually voting on the particular issue and who are passionately adverse to it.

Brands Method as Dastardly. "Here is an amplification of trial by jury that transcends all idea of law or justice; where the judge himself is prisoner at the bar, accused of no crime nor of anything in particular, without benefit of counsel or power to summon witnesses, not even to be confronted by his accusers. It is a dastardly, cowardly, cruel contrivance that would make the iniquity of the inquisition attempts respectable by comparison."

Judges Underpaid. Judges were declared to be "scandalously underpaid" and the delays in settling lawsuits in this country were attributed to cumbersome methods of procedure rather than to judges by various speakers. "Most of the criticism which has started the movement for recall of judges, results from dissatisfaction in the slow ways in which cases get through the courts," said Charles Bloodsmith of Kansas. "This tardiness is due to modes of procedure and not to the judges."

"We should keep our judges from temptation," asserted H. D. Estabrook of New York. "An occasional judge is found wanting because all judges are human. I am inclined to think that a judge should be permitted no patronage whatever, whereas we are forever thrusting upon them powers of appointment because we want the assurance of their greater abilities and undoubted probity. There should be no perquisite to the judicial office, but in lieu thereof we should pay out judges' salaries worthy of their position. As it is we get infinitely better judges than we deserve."

Texas Honored. The election of Frank B. Kellogg, St. Paul, Minn., as president brought the convention to a close. New directors elected include Wm. H. Burgess of Texas.

BUTCHERS FACE BANKRUPTCY.

Wholesalers Charge Too Much and Consumer Cannot Pay.

San Francisco, Aug. 29.—The Retail Butchers of San Francisco say they are on the verge of bankruptcy. The Retail Butchers' association has made a statement through A. Shapiro, its president, which says in part:

"We are being ground to nothing between the pressure—we can get no quarter from the wholesalers. They are thoroughly organized. On the other hand, we cannot charge the consumer more, because if we do he will have to stop buying meat. Almost half of our members are practically put out of business now."

Shapiro said the association planned to organize a campaign for the reduction of the tariff on meat as the only course left open.

CATHOLICS HOLD INSTITUTE.

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 29.—Teachers in Catholic parochial schools, academies and convents of the diocese of Galveston will today conclude a three days' institute. The attendance has been large and many subjects on teaching methods have been considered.

FOR THE NATIONAL GUARD

ADJUTANT GENERAL HUTCHINS ASKS INCREASED FUNDS.

Funds Are Wanted to Purchase Additional Ground for Camp Mabry.

By The Associated Press.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 29.—The adjutant general's department asks for an increase in appropriations for the next two years amounting to $56,400. The estimate of General Hutchings calls for $102,380 the first year and $58,380 the second against $62,180 and $42,180 appropriated by the Thirty-second legislature. The appropriation for the state ranger force is placed at the old figure—$20,000 a year.

To pay national guard companies aiding civil authorities in preserving order $3000 a year is asked instead of $2500. With the Mexican trouble and the frequent use of the militia, lately, the appropriation of $2500 has been exhausted and two companies at Corsicana and one at Marshall have outstanding claims upaid amounting to $1900.

For labor in the arsenal $5000 a year is asked instead of $2500. To transport troops to camps the old appropriation of $20,000 for two years is desired.

Twenty thousand dollars is asked to construct storehouses at Camp Mabry here, while $4000 is asked to buy extra ground for Camp Mabry, ground upon which the citizens of Austin have an option.

For rent of armories for national guard companies $20,000 a year is asked instead of $10,000. This will give each company $15 a month.

It is also proposed to increase the salaries of the assistant adjutant general and assistant quartermaster general from $1500 a year to $1800 a year and to allow the stenographer $1200 a year instead of $1000.

TO RECLAIM THE LANDS.

Governor Makes Suggestions To National Irrigation Congress.

By The Associated Press.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 29.—In a letter to the National Irrigation congress, which is to convene at Salt Lake City, Governor Colquitt outlines the work that must be done in Texas—the reclamation of overflow and swamp lands and the watering of arid lands.

He spoke of the drainage necessity and says that while there are several federal departments doing excellent work, their efficiency as applied to reclamation seems sadly impaired in many ways—by vague technicalities, lack of organic law or the arbitrary policy of the bureau itself. He declared that while states should make the specific surveys, the federal government might and should do much work of a general character that would be very valuable. For this reason he suggests that in order that a reasonable part of the surveying necessary for the reclamation of the arid, swamp and overflow lands may be done by the federal government, there is need for an entirely new federal bureau designed for this purpose—or for an overhauling and rearranging of the present federal survey machinery with a view to increasing its practical efficiency.

MILLER TO SEE THE FLY.

State Department Sends Man To Investigate the Pest.

By The Associated Press.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 29.—E. A. Miller, assistant entomologist of the department of agriculture, has gone to She, man today to investigate the ravages of the fly which is not only bringing ruin to owners of livestock but is now also reported to be attacking persons as well. The department of agriculture has had no complaints or reports with regard to this plague further than what it has seen in the press but the press reports are such as to lead it to believe that it is justified in making an examination and giving whatever aid is possible.

LOCHRIDGE TO GET PLACE.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 29.—H. M. Johnston, staff correspondent of the Houston Post, has declined appointment as secretary of the board of directors of the A. and M. college and publicity agent for the institution. The governor has recommended to the board the appointment of Lloyd P. Lochridge, also a Houston Post staff correspondent.

WILSON PLEADS

ment had been in control of "self-constituted trustees" in the republican party and that it was time for the people to obtain control.

Speech at Williamsport.

"It is strange that we should have put off so long looking into our government to see whether it is in fact run according to the rules we are laid down for it, but it is certain that we are now looking into it very sharply, indeed, and without the least danger that we shall be deceived again as to its character. Our idea of it has been from the first that it was a genuine partnership and that all were on one footing and were to share alike.

"But a very interesting thing has come to light. The government has been in the hands of self-constituted trustees and the partners have seldom been allowed a real governing voice in its administration.

"We had supposed that we were conducting the national business along the lines laid down by Jefferson, but we find that as a matter of fact we have been conducting it along the lines laid down by Hamilton. Hamilton believed that the common run of men had little qualification for such business; that it could be really comprehended and wisely directed only by those who led in commercial and industrial enterprise and owned the chief bodies of property in the country. In our time the leaders of the republican party have consciously or unconsciously adopted his notion.

"Those men financed party campaigns and were always on the inside when party policy was to be determined. Tariff schedules, the foreign policy of the country, the chief expenditures of government—everything as they suggested, while the rank and file fared as we might, and were happy if we had any small share in the property which they organized for themselves. They were the trustees, we were their wards and took part in the common life as they planned and directed. What went on at the trustee meetings was seldom allowed to learn, and only by patient inquiry, by congressional investigation or trials in court, which the trustees complained sadly interfered with the regular course of business.

Ridicules Roosevelt.

"Mr. Roosevelt has proclaimed himself a convert to the protective policy—I say a convert because he at one time very frankly avowed a different opinion—and has said that while he admitted that no doubt some duties were too high and ought to be lowered, on the whole policy pursued by republican administration had been the right one and he thought the 'prize money' which had been received under that system by the manufacturers of the country was legitimate booty.

"The analogy is a very interesting one. Prize money is generally acquired by capture and not by any process of earning, but Mr. Roosevelt is always frank and says that his only objection to the system is that too much of the prize money remains in the hands of the officers and too little of it is distributed to the crew. His one objection he avows to be that most of the prize money gets into the pay envelope of those whom the free-booters employ. The interesting point I wish to raise now is who supplies the plunder, from whom is the prize money taken?

"The present Democratic congress had the old-fashioned idea of government. They supposed that its benefits and protections were to be distributed and equally shared. It introduced and passed a bill which became known as the farmer's free list bill. That bill put many indispensable things on the free list. Most prominent among them were agricultural implements, because the American farmer pays more for his agricultural implements than any other farmer in the world. The American manufacturers who make agricultural implements sell them much cheaper on the other side of the water. It was a very natural act on the part of the Democratic congress to put agricultural articles on the free list, to put fence wire also on the free list and the bagging and tires which the Southern farmer needs and uses for his cotton. It added lumber and laths and shingles and leather and shoes and salt and meats, thinking not of the farmer alone, but of all of us who are struggling to live and pay our bills. But such conditions did not comport with the ideas and plans of the trustees and the president vetoed the free list. I dare say he was right from his point of view, for he represented the trustees, and not the people.

"The trustees represent also the big bankers in whose hands our banking system lies to be manipulated, and no republican administration, no republican congress, has attempted to serve the farmer as he ought to be served in the matter of credits. It is practically impossible for the farmer to borrow money on the kind of securities ordinarily demanded by the banks. It does not serve his purpose to borrow it for the short periods insisted upon by most bankers. He needs rather long credits and he needs them on his own kind of security.

"He can't be mortgaging his farm every time he needs a little money. Other countries have discovered how to assist him. An admirable system of agricultural societies has been developed in Ireland and an excellent one in Germany, and the present Democratic congress has done nothing better than to provide for a careful investigation of this subject with a view to early action, so that the law may be fitted to the creation of these new instruments of business which the farmer so much needs and ought to have."

RIGHT OF WAY FOR INTERURBAN

CURED FOR THE DALLAS-WACO LINE.

CONDEMNATION SUITS

To Come Up Next Monday—Track-laying Operations Are to Be Rushed Rapidly.

With just 18 miles of right-of-way for the interurban yet to be secured and only a few condemnation suits in sight, the prospect for concluding the right-of-way matter in the early future is considered favorable. Condemnation proceedings in four cases come up next Monday, but these are friendly, and no trouble will be experienced in adjusting them. At the next term of county court three appeals will be heard. The appeals were taken by those securing the right-of-way.

It is expected that within a short time there will be track-laying operations, to be pushed by the use of the common steam track-laying machinery. Capt. Luther Dean, engineer in charge of the work for the Karner Bros. & Co., constructing firm, said that of the 135 miles of roadbed, a bit over seventy miles has been completed. The contract for the roadbed included the trestle work. The roadbed is being made of the natural soil, with some rock and gravel. There are few cuts. The trestle work is to be of hard pine on fourteen-inch piles, at least fifteen feet in the ground. There will be over 20,000 feet of such work.

Steel reinforced concrete viaducts of the road, twenty in number, to carry the track over the bottoms, of which Chambers Creek is the longest. The bridges over the Trinity River near Dallas and the Brazos River near Waco are to be of a separate contract. There are twenty-two bridges in all. There will be more than four miles of trestles.

Large Crew at Work.
More than 600 men are at work on the construction and the force are in corps about every five miles of the line. In some places steam graders are in use, but for the greater part of the distance the mules and scrapers are operating.

The work began after the letting of the contract on April 12, and it is expected that it will be finished by the first of the new year. Ties are to be of oak, most of them hewn from Oklahoma forests. Rails are to be eight-pound steel. Ballast will be native gravel. The greatest grade is to be about 2 per cent and the tracks are to be so nearly straight-away that there will be no slowing for the curves. It is estimated that the cars to be used can make fifty miles and over and that the average time will be more than thirty miles an hour.

There will be used more than 21,000 trolley poles, 150 feet apart. From brackets there will be suspended in catenary system a trolley wire of 1,200-volt capacity, of 200,000 circular mill dimension, about half an inch.

There are to be substations at Hutchins, Waxahachie, Hillsboro and near Waco on the main line and near Rice on the Corsicana line. Each of the cars is to be fitted with telephones for easy connections at many places along the line. It is expected that the line will be in full operation by early fall of 1913.

SAFETY RAZOR MONDAY.

Barbers Will Close on Account of Labor Day.

"It's a point in favor of the safety," declared a well known Waco barber yesterday, commenting on the action of union barbers in refusing to work Monday—Labor Day. "Take my word for it, if a man does not possess a razor of his own he is going to be up against it Monday. He is going to have some long whiskers, unless he has got them trained to wait until the third day to come out."

Waco people—unless they shave themselves—will have to go three days without shaving. Sunday and Monday the union shops will be closed. Some barbers did not approve of the action of closing all day Monday. In past years the barbers have agreed to work a few hours on Labor Day, and celebrate the rest of the day.

"The barbers have been fighting the safety always," continued the barber. "The safety has been making serious inroads on the barber's incomes—none of them doubt that. If it wasn't for the safety there would be more barbers in the country nowadays. But this action of closing a day Monday is an inconvenience to the public, and is going to cause some of our customers to complain. I dare say, some of them will buy safety as a result."

COULD NOT GET LICENSE.

Would Not Swear the Bride Was of Age.

A Bell county man who applied at the county clerk's office yesterday for a marriage license for his brother, refused to swear that the bride-to-be was of age and his request was refused. It developed also that his brother was under age.

"You swear that Miss — is 18 years old?" the clerk said.
"No sir, I don't," he replied.
"Then we can't do anything for you," he was told.

"I don't know whether she is 18 years old or not, but I do know there is no objection to her marriage," the visitor continued. "Her people know of the marriage, but I won't swear that his brother was under age."

The man made the trip to Waco for this special purpose. He was told to go home and get affidavits to the effect that both parties were marrying with the full consent of their elders.

FREE DISPENSARY DAILY

MANY ARE GETTING BENEFIT OF THE CITY CLINIC.

Sisters of Providence Sanitarium Are Giving City Physician Help With the Sick.

Dr. Emanuel Toomim, city physician, announced yesterday that, beginning September 2, the free dispensary of medicine for the city's poor will be open from 3 to 4 o'clock each day. He will be at his office those hours to give all assistance possible to those who avail themselves of the benefits of the clinic.

Heretofore the dispensary has been open only on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, but calls upon it justify its opening every day. The establishment of the clinic three weeks ago has given relief to many who otherwise would have been compelled to go without medical relief or undergo strenuous sacrifices to get it.

Dr. Toomim says the Sisters of Providence sanitarium are furnishing him valuable assistance in looking after the worthy poor. In such cases the sisters send nurses to the home of the patient and frequently send food. The nurses not only look after the sick but render assistance in the household affairs.

In requesting greater promptness in reporting births and deaths, Dr. Toomim warns the doctors that failure to make these reports within five days after the occurrence is punishable by a fine of $25. He says that the negro doctors and several of the white physicians are negligent in this matter. He urges them to be prompt in all their reports.

The city physician files his vital statistics report with the city commission the 10th of each month. Births in Waco average 40 to 50 a month, the number being pretty evenly divided between girls and boys.

JUVENILE CASES WAIT

THIRTEEN ARE ON THE DOCKET OF COUNTY COURT.

Will Be Taken Up Next Monday Judge McCullough to Visit Gatesville School.

When Judge Tom McCullough opens county court Monday morning he will find thirteen juvenile cases awaiting trial, in addition to a world of other business. Five children are charged with theft, one is charged with assault while the remaining seven are delinquents. Four of the juveniles' offenders are girls.

About twelve youngsters from this county are now serving sentences in the Gatesville training school. Judge McCullough sent them there, and occasionally he gets reports on their conduct and progress. When he finishes the September term of his court he will make a trip to Gatesville and see for himself how the boys are doing. He will interview all of the boys from his court.

"Some of these juvenile cases on the docket should have been tried before," said Judge McCullough yesterday. "At the last term of court we could not get witnesses in these cases. I am not acquainted with the cases against the girls. Recently I placed two young girls in the hands of a good woman here. The Gatesville institution is for boys only."

The first week of the court will be devoted to the criminal docket. Twelve cases are docketed for trial Monday.

IS THIS WHY ENGLISH BEAUTIES ARE SO FAIR?

(From London Herald.)

Ever since the discovery that mercerized wash would absorb and remove a soiled complexion, its use by ladies as a substitute for toilet creams has grown rapidly. A perfect complexion can be maintained indefinitely if this remarkable substance is used. Its beneficial cleansing, clearing and preservative action is quickly apparent, and ladies who have been paying as high as a guinea a jar for "special cream" from beauty specialists soon recognize that mercerized wash outranks them all. It has become so popular that it can be obtained at all chemist shops in the British Isles. American druggists also have great demand for it, in original one-ounce packages. The favorite way of using is to apply it, like cold cream, before retiring, washing it off in the morning.

The sallow lotion for wrinkles and the facial contour has also become extremely popular. One ounce powdered sallow is dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this has a splendid effect.

WILL GRADUATE TODAY

BAYLOR WILL HAVE FIRST MID-SUMMER COMMENCEMENT.

Program Will Be Short—Public Is Invited, But Especially the Former Students.

While all friends of Baylor are cordially invited to attend the first mid-summer commencement of the University in Carroll Chapel at 10 o'clock this morning, this invitation is given with particular force to all graduates of the institution living in Waco, who are invited to join in the commencement procession that will form at Carroll Science Hall at 9:45 and march across the campus to the auditorium where the exercises will be held.

Thirteen graduates will receive their degrees at this time and they will be rated as regular members of the class of 1912 and as such immediately become full-fledged members of the Alumni Association.

While the program will be short, due to the warm weather, it will be varied and is calculated to appeal to the public. It is announced as follows: The invocation, Rev. M. L. Munger, pastor Herring Avenue Methodist church; Scherzo Symphonique (for organ)—Lemmings—Prof. Rudolf Hoffmann.

The commencement address, Dr. J. H. McLean, former president Southwestern University.

Ave Maria (for violin)—Gounod.

Back—Miss Ermine Halbert.

The Conferring of Degrees.

The president's address to the graduating class.

The Benediction, Rev. W. W. Melton, pastor Seventh and James Street Baptist church.

The Reconciliation.

The commencement program has been arranged under the direction of Prof. F. G. Guitard and W. H. Pool and Prof. Guitard will act as master of ceremonies in the rendition of it. J. R. Epps, L. M. Graves, J. P. Buck and W. D. Fagan will officiate as ushers.

More than ordinary interest centers in today's exercises from the fact that they constitute a radical departure from the old order of things in Texas colleges, but Dr. Brooks and others responsible for the direction of the affairs of the university believe it is a step in the right direction and the public is cordially invited to come out and see how the innovation starts off.

List of the Graduates.

Those who will receive the bachelor of arts degree today are Thomas Carroll Dowell, McKinney; Murdock D. Fry, Blue Ridge; Robert William Leaker, Mart; Frank Edmond Long, El Campo; Warren Martin McNeill, Greenville; Hattie Virginia McNeill, Valley Mills; Oscar Buford Mosely, Waco; Pauline Loraine Smith, Holland; Huel Waggoner, Waco; Maple Wilson, Plainville, and Emma Winfrey, Byers. ### ORPHANS RIDE IN AUTOS.

B. C. Nettles Takes the Children for a Picnic.

One of the most magnificent treats ever extended the boys and girls of the Methodist orphanage in this city was given the 150 or more orphans of that institution Thursday afternoon by B. C. Nettles. Mr. Nettles put in all of his cars, and in addition, had contributed for the occasion cars of his friends.

There were 18 or 20 cars in the line and every one was an E-M-F '30. Everyone of them too was filled with bright, eager faces of happy youngsters who were enjoying to the fullest extent every minute of the joyful ride. The route covered by the excursionists was over the principal drives of the city and ended at Cameron park where Mr. Nettles had a surprise tucked away to make perfect the afternoon's entertainment. The surprise was an abundance of ice cream and cake, and of course was thoroughly enjoyed by all of the "excursionists." Made happy by the afternoon's outing, jubilant over the pleasures of the ride, the boys and girls of the orphanage gave Mr. Nettles a solid vote of thanks and appreciation for his thoughtfulness and courtesies. But of the bunch of happy faces B. C. Nettles was the most radiant. "I had the best time I ever had," he said.

TICKET SELLING CAMPAIGN.

They announced yesterday that the appointments would be made within the next two or three days, and the ticket-selling campaign launched in full force the early part of next week. Members of both organizations are enthusiastic over the line of action, as outlined by the Cotton Palace officials, and will lend their best efforts to carrying out the plans with great results.
